

NEWS RELEASE

www.iiac.ca

For Immediate Release

The IIAC Congratulates the 2017 Investment Industry Hall of Fame Inductees

Toronto, ON, October 26, 2017 – Six leaders of business will be inducted into the IIAC Investment Industry Hall of Fame at a gala dinner tonight, with broadcaster and author, Rex Murphy, serving as the Master of Ceremonies.

“This year’s Inductees are recognized for outstanding achievement in their professional and personal lives,” said Ian Russell, IIAC President and CEO. “They have distinguished themselves as leaders in the various sides of our industry. Their contributions on the national and community stages and their everlasting mark of excellence and integrity on the investment industry warrant the accolades they receive tonight.”

This year’s induction ceremony recognizes six individuals, two of whom are being enshrined posthumously. The 2017 class of IIAC Investment Industry Hall of Fame Inductees includes:

Catherine (Kiki) Delaney, President of Delaney Capital Management Ltd., one of the leading investment counselling firms in Canada and one of the most recognized in capital markets in the country. Her contributions go beyond the investment community, being recognized with distinction for her support of Canadian arts and culture.

Ned Goodman, co-founder of Beutel, Goodman & Company and founder of Dundee Corporation, has made many contributions to Canada’s mining, real estate and financial services industries in a career that spans more than 50 years. Ned is a recognized leader for his philanthropic support for higher education.

Stephen Jarislowsky, founder of Jarislowsky, Fraser Limited, has, for more than 60 years, directed the growth of the company to become one of the largest and most successful investment management firms in Canada. He has received many accolades for his educational, cultural and charitable ventures.

William (Bill) Wilder has had an illustrious career at the helm of several prominent companies, including President of Wood Gundy Inc., one of Canada’s most prestigious securities firms. A renowned philanthropist and an esteemed war veteran, Bill Wilder is a man of action, devoting himself to a broad spectrum of activities, even in retirement.

John Pearce Bunting, a posthumous Inductee, was a visionary, a marketplace innovator and a pioneer for the Canadian investment industry. He made significant contributions to the Toronto Stock Exchange in his time as the President and Chief Executive, a title he rightfully held longer than any predecessor or successor. Pearce knew the importance of giving back and displayed his generosity endlessly with his charitable and community involvement.

Peter Cundill, founder of Peter Cundill & Associates Ltd and the Cundill Value Fund, was described by Barron's as "the bravest of the value investors" and was awarded The Analysts' Choice Career Achievement Award as "the greatest mutual fund manager of all time." He is a posthumous Inductee.

For more information on the IIAC Investment Industry Hall of Fame and its 2017 Inductees, click here.

The IIAC – Representing Canada's investment dealer firms

The Investment Industry Association of Canada (IIAC) is the national association representing the investment industry's position on securities regulation, public policy and industry issues on behalf of our 131 IIROC-regulated investment dealer Member firms in the Canadian securities industry. These dealer firms are the key intermediaries in Canadian capital markets, accounting for the vast majority of financial advisory services, securities trading and underwriting in public and private markets for governments and corporations. The IIAC provides leadership for the Canadian securities industry with a commitment to a vibrant, prosperous investment industry driven by strong and efficient capital markets. For more information, please visit www.iiac.ca.

- 30 -

For media inquiries, please contact:

Michael Gotzamanis
Senior Manager, Communications
The Investment Industry Association of Canada (IIAC)
416.687.5475 – office direct
416.320.6920 – mobile
mgotzamanis@iiac.ca